APPLES are still on hand, and for the most part, the quality is good.

A large Tea Box has been special for the scaling of Matsuo, Gamo, Pao, which can not only be treated for the box but are transported more tenderly than by the ordinary. Articles from the tea box to be wrapped in cotton or silk, and labeled with the name of the box, and sealed with the five points per lb., and sent to the market.

Keeps of Baling, or other provisions are not so good as usual, with the exception of rice.
